

The FCA control board is provided by the end customer which contains 2 microcontrollers for simulating the motor control algorithms in the dual inverter through IGBT Switching devices via its application Software.
It also contains an HCP-hybrid control processor for simulating Low voltage vehicle functions

